Assalamualaikum warrahmatullahi wabarakatuh

Best wishes to all of us

On behalf of Universitas Jenderal Soedirman, I would like to welcome all of the keynote speakers, invited speakers and all participants who attend the The 1st “International Conference on Political, Social & Humanities Sciences” (ICPSH 2020) organized by the Faculty of Social and Political Sciences, Universitas Jenderal Soedirman.

Now we are facing a new disruption era that occurred pushed by the Industrial Revolution 4.0. The world community will begin to recognize that a human-centered society and technology will change the way humans live, work and communicate, which is called Society 5.0.

The concept of a human-centered and technology-based society brings enormous changes in the education system, health services, commerce, government systems, and every aspect of life.

This era requires disruptive regulation, disruptive culture, disruptive mindset, and disruptive marketing that revolutionizes the old lifestyle. Disruption is continuous innovation. Then, the question is, what about our education model, which will later be disruptive to replace the entire old learning system with new ways.

The academic community's task is to provide solutions in organizing life and its harmony with other humans to achieve society's welfare. Therefore, this conference will bridge the scientific role and become an interdisciplinary dialectical study of social, political, and humanities. We hope that ideas, plans, and actions will emerge in this forum to overcome problems in this disruptive era.

Therefore, we appreciate the Faculty of Social and Political Sciences, Universitas Jenderal Soedirman, for this beneficial program. I expect this conference to produce useful outputs.

Last but not least, I congratulate all delegates on participating in this online international conference.

With the name of Allah swt "Bismillahirrahman nirrahim", The 1st “International Conference on Political, Social & Humanities Sciences 2020” officially open.

Wassalamualaikum Warrahmatullah Wabarakatuh

Prof. Dr. Ir. Suwanto, M.S
Rector
